

Poisonous Plant Information

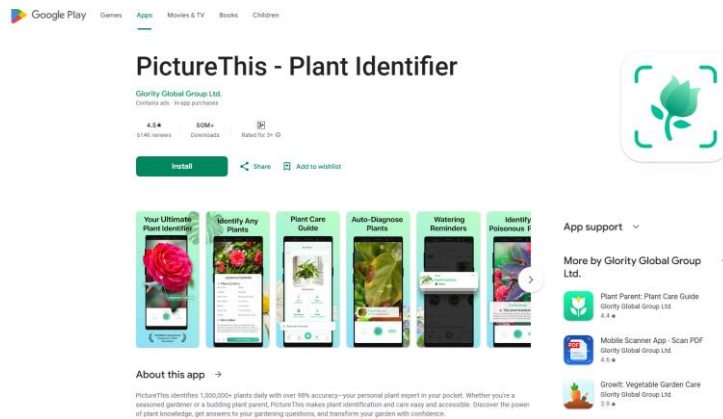

The following apps can assist you in identifying plants in your environment. It's essential to use these tools in conjunction with Queensland Health's Poison Information - Plants and Mushrooms page to determine if the plants in your environment are safe for children.

Safety Tips:

- Always double-check plant information before purchasing or adding a plant into your environment.
- If you identify any plants that are potentially harmful to children, remove them from your environment immediately to prevent any accidental poisoning.

If you're uncertain about the toxicity of a plant after using these apps, consult with your local Practice Mentor or use the Queensland Health Poison Information Plant and Mushrooms page to verify whether the plant is dangerous.
